1. A copy of your coursework submission may be made as part of the University of Brighton's and School of Computing, Engineering & Mathematics procedures which aim to monitor and improve quality of teaching. If a copy is made, it will be kept only for this purpose and will be destroyed once this purpose has been fulfilled. You should refer to your student handbook for details.
2. All work submitted must be your own (or your team's for an assignment which has been specified as a group submission) and all sources which do not fall into that category must be correctly attributed. The markers may submit the whole set of submissions to the JISC Plagiarism Detection Service.
